WELCOME TO THE 2026 GTSS!

Welcome to the 2026 National Bison Association Gold Trophy Show and Sale (GTSS)! We thank you for your interest in this classic bison auction, now in its 46th year. First and foremost, we want to thank the judges, consignors, buyers, volunteers, sponsors, and National Western Stock Show (NWSS) for making the GTSS the nation's premier bison breeding stock show and sale. Without the expert handling provided by the GTSS "buffaleros" and the many volunteers that pitch in to make it a success year in and year out, we wouldn't be able to make this the event it is.

With the mission "to create an environment where producers can compete to establish the value of their bison in the current marketplace", the Gold Trophy Show and Sale is your chance to diversify your herd's genetics from proven breeding performers in both the bull and heifer classes from across the North American continent.

This year's entries total over 70 head of top-quality bison in 7 classes that represent 19 consignors representing 6 states and 3 Canadian provinces who brought their best stock to compete for the gold. Take some time to take a look at these animals in the pens and catch the judges' comments at 8:30 am on Saturday, January 24th in the Del Hensel Bison Pens at the NWSS Livestock Events Center at National Western Stock Show.

Thank you to our GTSS Trophy Sponsors for supporting this year's consignor awards, as well as Rocky Mountain Natural Meat for donating the GTSS Banquet Dinner bison steaks, and congratulations to this year's show winners.

Sincerely,

Jim Matheson

Our goal is to produce and raise quality Pure Woods and Woods X bison, and we are very proud of the breeding stock that has been selected to make up our herds. Our bulls bring genetics from Viking Bison, Irish Creek and Roaming K. Our cow herd genetics originate from RJ Bison Ranch and have developed into a great maternal line of home raised cows. Cammack Buffalo Ranch is in Stoneville, SD. We provide high quality breeding stock focusing on performance tested bulls. These bulls are the top end of our 750 cows. We started with 30 buffalo in 1999. John and son Taber (6th generation) run day to day operations as the rest of the family helps seasonally. We have strived to improve our animals from performance to disposition. We DNA test our herds to help us in selecting the best possible replacement heifers and breeding bulls. The bulls go through an additional performance test so we can evaluate their feed efficiencies on 100% grass and then a feed test to ensure long term production on the ranch.

Roaming K Bison is a division of Kitzul Farms Ltd and is in east central Saskatchewan. We're a fifth-generation grain farm which started in 1903 and second-generation bison ranch which started in 2000. We take a serious approach to the quality of animals we allow into our program. We strictly look for and retain high performing genetics that have great confirmation. That's also what we expect out of our breeding stock when selling to other producers. Over the past years our breeding program has done quite well at the Canadian and US bison shows. TEXOMA BISON COMPANY

Tommie & Liz Simon • 841 Azusa Cir., Lawton, OK • 832-248-4062 • texomabison@gmail.com

First-generation bison ranchers in southwest Oklahoma, we're building a herd known for deep black color and quiet disposition. Our animals are selected for performance in the Southern Plains heat and drought — medium-framed and efficient. We cull open cows, retain our best bred heifers, and cycle home-grown black bulls back into the herd each year. We don't sell often, so when one of ours steps into the ring, it's a rare chance to take these dark Southern genetics home. If you're ever nearby, the gate's open — we're always glad to walk the pastures and talk bison.

WOLVERINE BISON COMPANY

Mark Silzer and Cec Stumborg • Box 2773, Humboldt, SK, Canada • 306-682-4933 (Mark); 306-682-3987 (Cec) • marksilzer@sasktel.net

Wolverine Bison was founded in 1994 by partners Jane and Cec Stumborg and Denise and Mark Silzer and is in central Saskatchewan near Humboldt. The current herd originated from a Plains Bison genetic base that was imported from the United States in 1982. The original group provided a strong foundation from which to build. The herd continues to be built on exclusive Plains Bison genetics and is part of the Conservation Herd Registry in Canada and the United States. All animals in our herd have been DNA tested, by NEOGEN Canada, to confirm parentage and Plains genetics.

Meticulous record keeping, attention to detail along with a discerning selection process has developed into an award-winning herd. Replacement animals finding their way into the herd are selected for performance with particular attention given to length, width, muscling and conformation.

Wolverine Bison has won numerous awards for our stock over the years. In addition to the individual awards, the company has also received the Producer of the Year Award at the National Show in Canada as well as the Gold Trophy Show and Sale in Denver. Aside from the awards, the greatest testament to the quality of the animals comes from standing purchase orders for stock and a repeat customer base that continues to add Wolverine Bison genetics to their breeding programs.

Whether being used to complement and strengthen Plains Bison genetics in an existing herd or making a strong contribution in a Woods/Plains Cross program, Wolverine Bison stock has something to offer.

MAKING A POSITIVE IMPACT

At Heim Land and Bison, our family works hard to be good stewards to the land and the bison.

We also play hard and prioritize our family time. Raising our children to appreciate the land and the animals is important. They are thriving and we feel secure that we are preparing the next generation to carry forward what we have created.
